CASIMIR-PERIER PASSES

Former President of France Is Dead at Paris.

HAS A NOTABLE CAREER.

Grandfather and Father Both Leaders
In Affairs of State, and All Three Prominent in Governmental Matters
For a Long Period.

Paris, March 12.—M. Casimir-Perier, former president, is dead.

Jean Paul Pierre Casimir-Perier was the son and grandson of statesmen. His father, Augustine Casimir-Perier, was minister of the interior in 1871, and his grandfather was the leader of the opposition when Louis Philippe ascended the throne and was afterward premier. The ex-president was born Nov. 28, 1847. After a brilliant career as a student of literature and history he joined the militia of Aube during the Franco-Prussian war, and when they were summoned to Paris Casimir-Perier behaved with such gallantry that he was mentioned in the order of the day and later decorated with the Cross of Legion of Honor. When his father entered first the republican cabinet of M. Thiers, Casimir-Perier, Jr., became his assistant in the ministry of the interior. In 1874 he was elected to the chamber of deputies and re-elected in 1878. After the crisis of May, 1877, he was one of the 363 deputies who refused to pass a vote of confidence in the Broglie ministry. He became under-secretary of state or the minister of public instruction, and retained that post until the Dufaure cabinet went out of office in 1879. In 1883 M. Casimir-Perier was appointed under-secretary of state at the ministry of war and in 1890 elected vice president of the chamber and president of the budget committee.

In the summer of 1894 he was elected president of the republic, immediately after the assassination of President Carnot. He was not popular owing to his opposition to agencies which threatened the national security. He was openly insulted in every possible manner, and eventually the government prosecuted M. Gherault Richard, who had published libels on the president, for which he was sentenced to six months' imprisonment. Serious differences arose between M. Casimir-Perier and his supporters and on Jan. 17, 1895, he resigned. It developed that the real reason for Casimir-Perier's resignation was the fact that his cabinet concealed material facts of policy from him; that he nearly found himself in a serious quarrel with Germany, owing to his ignorance of the Dreyfus scandal. It was even said that private documents had been abstracted and photographed while on the way to Berlin, and it was added that in order to disassociate himself from such acts and prevent the possibility of war Casimir-Perier retired from the presidency and from political life.

MERRY NOT INSULTED.

State Department Officials Emphatically Deny Report.

Washington, March 12.—State department officials are emphatic in their denial of reports that President Zelaya of Nicaragua forced Mr. Merry, the American minister to Nicaragua, Costa Rica and San Salvador out of Nicaragua and offered him insult of a serious nature at the time of Mr. Merry's visit to Managua, the Nicaraguan capital, three weeks ago. It is admitted by the state department that Mr. Merry was not able to effect a settlement of the Well claim, but the department has no knowledge of any friction between Merry and President Zelaya.

Senor Corea, the Nicaraguan minister, called upon Secretary Bacon at the state department to discuss Central American affairs. He stated positively that there had been no friction between Mr. Merry and President Zelaya, such as reported, and in confirmation he had a dispatch stating that Mr. Well, the concessionaire, denied that any such thing had happened. Mr. Corea showed the following dispatch from the Nicaraguan consul at New Orleans to Mr. Bacon:

"Mr. Samuel Well, resident here, says he accompanied Minister Merry on his railroad trip from Managua to Corinto in the presidential car, gallantly offered by President Zelaya. Until he sailed Mr. Merry was the object of full attention from the Nicaraguan authorities."

The news published in a St. Louis newspaper regarding the mistreatment of the American minister is certainly calumny, circulated by the enemies of Nicaragua to unfavorably impress public opinion here."

FARLEY HEARD.

Appears Before Commission in Behalf of Dallas Freight Bureau.

Washington, March 12.—The interstate commerce commission gave a hearing to the complaint of the Dallas freight bureau, represented by J. Farley. The gist of the complaint is that a number of transportation companies make Texas a common point and that nearly all towns in the state get the same rate for various classes of commodities. Dallas wants advantage in rates as against smaller towns further off from St. Louis and other markets. Railroad representatives from all southwestern lines are here.

WOODMEN IN SESSION.

They and the Women's Circle Convened at Dallas.

Dallas, March 12.—Over 2,000 delegates and visitors were present at the opening meeting of the Woodmen of this district, comprising Mexico, New Mexico, Arizona and Texas. Mayor Smith delivered the city's welcome, to which Hon. E. E. Mrougher of Lincoln and others responded. The membership represented exceeds 110,000. Head Consul Henry of San Antonio is presiding. Rev. W. H. Vance, chaplain of the district, delivered the invocation.

National officials present are: Hon. Morris Sheppard, Texarkana, sovereign banker; W. A. Fraser, Dallas, vice president and sovereign adviser. District officials are: E. D. Henry, San Antonio, head consul; J. K. Strecker, Jr., Waco, head adviser; J. W. Blake, Dallas, head banker; J. E. Bloodworth, Cleburne, head clerk; J. M. Winneford, Cumby, and J. K. P. Hanna, Calvert, head managers; W. M. Spence, Honey Grove, head secretary. About 700 camps are represented. Congressmen Randell and Beall are also present.

Five degree teams had an interesting contest.

The Women's Circle is also in session, with a large attendance. The membership exceeds 25,000. Members of the supreme council are: Mrs. Ellen D. Patterson, Houston, supreme manager, and Mrs. Fannie M. Fraser, Dallas, chairman of the supreme committee on law. District officers are: Mrs. Maggie Hyde, Dallas, grand guardian; Mrs. Daisy Kitchel, Denison grand adviser; Mrs. Mary Taylor, San Antonio, grand clerk; Mrs. Alice Allen, Somerville, grand banker; Mrs. Dona Howard, Terrell, grand attendant; Mrs. H. A. Thomas, Fort Worth, grand secretary; Mrs. Kate Doss, Colorado City, grand chaplain.

TAX OUTSIDE HUNTERS.

Game Warden Bill to Be Reconsidered by the Senate.

Austin, March 12.—The house reconsidered its action in killing the game warden bill and the measure set for consideration Wednesday, with pending amendment to tax only outside hunters who come to Texas to hunt.

The house killed Representative Wolf's joint resolution for an amendment to the state constitution so as to prevent members of the legislature interested in any corporation to vote on any measure in which said corporation may be interested. The vote stood 76 for and 20 against, it taking 89 votes or two-thirds to carry.

A resolution to adjourn sine die on March 30 was introduced in the house signed by twelve members. An amendment was proposed changing the date to April 6. Before action was taken on the resolution or amendment, Speaker Lowe took the floor and cautioned the members not to act hastily in fixing the date of adjournment, as there was considerable important business still on the calendar. A motion to table the resolution failed and a motion to postpone action until Wednesday morning prevailed by a vote of 73 to 34.

Without any further debate the Baskin McGregor liquor regulation bill passed finally in the house. No further amendments were offered. The bill as passed is satisfactory to the brewery interests of the state, as the high license feature only applies to counties having a population of 80,000.

Representative Green introduced a bill authorizing the purchase of an "Anti-Free Pass battle ground" in Travis county for a state park. This is in the nature of a joke.

The senate devoted the entire morning session Tuesday in considering Senator Alexander's bill requiring persons to render their property under oath for assessment, giving fair cash value, in rendition, enlarging powers of county commissioners and fining assessors $50 in every instance where they fail to comply with the law.

DRAMATIC SCENE.

Kansas Legislators and Others March and Sing Famous Song.

Topeka, March 12.—One of the last acts of the house was the killing of an item in the general appropriation bill of $6,000 providing for the erection of a statue in the hall of fame at Washington of John Brown of Ossawatimie. A dramatic scene preceded the demise of the appropriation. The item had been introduced by Senator B. P. Waggoner of Atchison, and when he learned that the conferees were threatening to cut it out he asked members and employees of the senate to follow him in singing "John Brown's Body Lies Mouldering in the Grave." A number of senators took up the song, and then Waggoner asked them to follow him. At the head of fifty legislators and employees the Atchison senator led the way first to the house, then to the conference committee room and finally to Governor Hoch's office, singing the song at the top of their voices.

FINED AND JAILED.

Three Individuals Convicted of Setting Bulldog on Printer.

Waco, March 12.—George and Len Gribble and B. R. Hector, charged with setting a bulldog on a printer named Legon Carlin a short time ago while he was passing through the country, and also with forcing him to saw wood, pleaded guilty in county court to aggravated assault and were fined $500 each and given fifteen months in jail. Charges of false imprisonment are still pending against them. The courtroom was full of people. Carlin was badly torn up by the dog.

FIFTEEN GREEKS DROWN

Lose Their Lives by Overbalancing Boat.

SOME OCCUPANTS ESCAPE

Those Who Perished in Pitt River Became Frightened While Crossing the Stream and Huddled at One End of the Craft.

Redding, Cal., March 12.—Fifteen men lost their lives in the treacherous Pitt river. The men were all Greeks employed in the construction crews of the Sacramento Valley and Eastern railway, building from Delamar copper smelter to the new station of Bonita, on the Southern Pacific, three miles above Kennet. The Greeks, an Indian named Wesley and the foreman of the crew, Charles O'Neill, started to cross the river in the new ferry boat of the company. When the boat had reached the middle of the stream the Greeks, from some unknown reason, bunched upon the end of the twenty-four-foot boat. This caused the boat to rise on end, and the men were thrown back. They piled up in a bunch at the other end. One was washed overboard, and the sight of the man in the river frightened the others until they were panic-stricken. They ran to the side of the boat, some jumping upon the railings, chattering wildly. Finally the boat was overbalanced and every man slid into the water. The ferryman and the foreman grabbed the boat and remained with it. They were saved. Two other men had the presence of mind to swim and gained the nearest shore, but fifteen of the Greeks were drowned.

FRIGHTFUL JOKE.

Oil That Was to Flash Went on Man and Cooked Him to a Crisp.

Pittsburg, March 12.—John Dombie, twenty years old, a laborer, employed at the Pressed Steel Car works in McKee's Rocks, was burned to death Monday, the victim of a joke. He lay down in front of a hot coke salamander and fell asleep. It is alleged a crane man, standing on a crane, poured crude oil over the salamander, thinking the flash when the oil should ignite would frighten the sleeping man. Most of the oil, instead of going into the salamander, fell on Dombie, saturating his clothing. When the flash came it ignited his clothes. Other employees removed the burning man to the yard and rolled him in the snow, but his body was burned to a crisp before the blazing oil was extinguished. The crane man escaped.

BOY SHOTS WOMAN.

Bullet Hits Her in Right Thigh and She Bleeds to Death.

London, Ky., March 12.—Harvey Rowe, a four-year-old boy, fatally shot Mrs. Bettie Griffith with a 45-caliber revolver at Altamont, this county. The woman before she died, said the little boy loaded the revolver and said he was going out in the yard to shoot a chicken. When she protested against this he turned on her, saying: "Look out!" and fired. The ball passed through the right thigh and the woman bled to death. The boy is a son of William Rowe, a coal miner. Mrs. Griffith was housekeeper for the Rowe family.

INNOCENT MAN HANGED.

Rancher on Death Bed Said Wrong Person Died on Scaffold.

Albuquerque, N. M., March 12.—Sheriff H. M. Deany of Otero county arrested at Esds City William Mitchell, alias Henry Russell, a stockman, charged with murder committed in Hood county, Texas, thirty-three years ago. It is alleged that Mitchell allowed his aged father to be convicted and hanged for the crime in 1874, upon the testimony of a rancher, who recently admitted on his death bed that the old man was innocent of the crime and who said that the son was the guilty man. Mitchell, senior, was eighty years of age when he was executed. Mitchell has been taken to the county jail at Alamogordo to await the arrival of the officers from Texas.

BODY IN BLANKET.

Rope Around Neck, Wrists Bound and Hands Tied Behind Back.

Birmingham, March 12.—Pratt City, a suburb of Birmingham, is greatly excited as the result of the finding of the body of an unknown man on the bank of a pond near the city wrapped in a blanket. Around the neck was a rope and the wrists were bound and the hands tied behind the body. The man's feet were also bound tightly together. The coroner has taken charge of the body.

None to Be Appointed.

Jackson, Miss., March 12.—General Stephen D. Lee, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, has announced that he will not appoint a sponsor and maids of honor for the reunion to be held at Richmond, Va., in June. The determination is in accordance with the wish of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Elgin Butter Sales.

Elgin, Ill., March 12.—Butter sales the past week were 687,000 pounds.

EMPLOYING PRINTERS.

Meet at Waco and Transact Considerable Business.

Waco, March 12.—The first semi-annual session of the Employing Commercial and Job Printers' Association of Texas was called to order by President Tom W. Perkins of McKinney, with an attendance of over 200.

After prayer by Rev. C. R. Wright Mayor Baker welcomed the visitors to the city at the head of the Brazos navigation. The response in behalf of the association was delivered by Hon. J. E. Grinstead of Kerrville, who referred to the history of Waco, and paid a warm tribute to the city.

Hon. A. R. McCollom, editor of the Waco Tribune, delivered the welcoming address in behalf of the local printers, during the course of which he recalled some reminiscences which were very much enjoyed by his listeners. The response to this address was made by Hon. Walton Petet of Dallas.

In his address President Perkins favored keeping all Texas printing at home and insisted school books should be printed in the state.

After the delivery of President Perkins' address it was moved and seconded that that portion relating to the printing in Texas of the textbooks for Texas schools be forwarded to the Austin papers and to the press in general in order to bring this matter more prominently before the legislators.

The committee that has had charge of the matter of getting the legislation through authorizing the publication of Texas school books in Texas was continued. The principal address of the afternoon was delivered by Walton Petet, who responded to the subject, "What Are We Here For?"

That part of the president's address containing the clause that it was probable that no printing house in Texas could turn out school books at the present time was stricken out, as it was stated with positive authority that this work could actually be done in Texas, and would mean the employment of over 1,000 more printers within the borders of the state, besides showing to the outside world that Texas was fully equipped to execute this class of work, and that the big printing houses were more than willing and anxious to be given a fair trial; that it would show confidence in home industries and make possible the establishing of several large publishing centers in Texas, thus diverting millions of dollars that flow to the northern and eastern firms and keeping this money in Texas.

It was also stated that by the adoption of this legislation the good that would result therefrom would be the means, sooner or later, of having established in Texas one or more paper mills.

SURELY SAD.

Miss Lucia Johnson Soon Follows Her Brother to the Grave.

Austin, March 12.—The death of Miss Lucia Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Tiff Johnson of this city, which occurred Saturday was peculiarly sad. It was only a few days ago that her brother, Tiff Johnson, died. She had nursed him through his illness and was stricken with a fatal attack of pneumonia a day or two before he died.

The deceased has a sister, Mrs. Will West, who lives in a remote part of Alaska. Letters have been written to her, informing her of her brother and sister's death, but she will not receive the news until sometime in June.

CONTRADICTS HIMSELF.

Wheeler Says He Did Not Have a Fair Chance Before.

San Antonio, March 12.—In his cross-examination of Samuel Wheeler, the negro ex-corporal of the Twenty-fifth infantry, contradicted himself on some minor points. He acknowledged having in the former investigation testified that he heard horses galloping on the night of the affray. He testified that there was no ill feeling between the soldiers and the citizens of Brownsville. When asked why he had not before told of these things, witness said he "didn't have a fair chance in the other investigation."

Baseball Pitcher Killed.

St. Louis, March 12.—Patrick J. Himes, who two seasons ago pitched for the St. Louis American Baseball league team, and who had signed with Milwaukee for the coming season, was shot in the head and killed in the saloon of Harry V. Grover. Louis V. Richardson, a bartender, was arrested and charged with the killing. Richardson declared he fired in self-defense.

WILSON & DERDEN PURCHASE NORWOOD'S DRY GOODS BUSINESS

New Firm Will Take Charge Today—Mr. Wilson Will Go East to Buy New Goods in a Few Days.

Announcement was made yesterday by the parties concerned of the purchase by Messrs. Sam B. Wilson and Ed. S. Derden of the dry goods business of Burt Norwood. The trade was closed yesterday and the new firm of Wilson & Derden will take charge today. The store will remain closed for a few days while the work of taking stock is going on. It is expected this will be completed and the store re-opened for business on Saturday next.

Mr. Wilson, who is an experienced dry goods man, and one of the best known and most successful young business men of Bryan, and one whose ability and taste as a buyer are too well known to need commendation. He has been successful throughout his business career, and it goes without saying that he will contribute his share to the success of this new enterprise.

Mr. Derden is also a well known, capable and popular young business man who has had a number of years' experience in mercantile lines, and was formerly in charge of Mr. Norwood's shoe department for some time. Mr. Derden has resigned his position as assistant cashier of the City National Bank, but will continue with the bank until his place is supplied. Thereafter he will give his entire and attention to his new duties.

In conversation with the Eagle representative yesterday Mr. Wilson said: "I will go East, upon completion of the inventory of the Norwood stock, to make selections and purchases, for the new firm of Wilson & Derden, of the latest and most advanced styles in the dry goods and ladies' ready-to-wear departments. Mr. Norwood had closed out these departments with a view to continuing a men's ready-to-wear store. We will re-establish these lines with the purpose of making them as complete as possible for Bryan; and we extend every assurance to the ladies that when they visit our store they will find the latest arrivals in ready-to-wear tailored waists, skirts, undermuslins, laces, embroideries, neckwear, hosiery, fans, handkerchiefs, belts, notions, dress goods, linens, etc., obtainable."

Upon Mr. Wilson's return from market the interior of the store will be suitably remodeled and now fixtures installed to accommodate and display the enlarged stock. The Eagle bespeaks for the new firm that full measure of success which the personal worth and business ability of the members richly deserve.

EARLY STREET HAT SHOWING.

The first showing of early spring street hats was made yesterday in Eugene Edge's millinery department and was a pronounced success in every particular. The ladies fairly thronged the department and Mr. Edge informed the Eagle that his sales were much larger than they have ever been on such occasion. Misses Contois and Middleton, who are in charge of the department, made a most favorable impression on all callers, and were in turn much pleased with the taste and appreciation manifested by the ladies of Bryan and vicinity. They will make another and more elaborate showing of street hats previous to the opening. French pokes are much worn this season and the most popular colors are champagnes and Dutch blues, while all blacks are also in favor. The majority of the hats shown are original in design.

The improvements being made in Mr. Edge's store add to the shelf room, light and ventilation and when all are completed it will be very attractive and serviceable.

LECTURE ON CHINA.

A fair sized crowd heard the lecture of Rev. G. W. Painter at the Presbyterian church last night. The speaker was introduced by Dr. J. D. West and his lecture was such as to inspire the deepest interest and to inform the inquiring mind with reliable facts, figures and deductions.

Rev. Painter comes from Hangchow,

China, and is in this country on furlough to disseminate information in the interest of missionary work. The fact that he has been a Presbyterian missionary in that country for thirty-three years explains his vast and comprehensive knowledge of the ancient empire, its people, and their history and present status.

The speaker showed that the Boxer troubles were the outgrowth of patriotic opposition of the Chinese, from their standpoint, towards encroachments of foreigners on their ancient traditions, religion, social and political life, and that the same conditions might easily produce another outbreak. In this connection the exclusion and opium acts, land grabbing efforts, establishment of courts, etc., together with the boycott, were mentioned.

Notwithstanding this grievous wounding of China politically, socially and religiously, the speaker was able to make the gratifying and encouraging statement that conditions are now more favorable to the propagation of the religion of Jesus Christ than they were at any time previous to the Boxer troubles six years ago.

The three phases of the conditions that may grow out of the critical period now on in that country were shown to be the possibility of drifting into a repetition of the disorders of the past with all their fearful consequences; the possibility of an effort to coerce the Chinese into accepting the new order of things, which would fail; and the wiser and more promising course of guiding the new development according to the teachings of the Christianity we seek to implant, which policy is the surest safeguard against the dangers of the so-called "yellow peril."

DOG MUZZLING ORDINANCE.

Sec. 3. That the City Marshal is authorized and directed to kill all dogs found at large in said City without a muzzle after this ordinance goes into effect.

AS TO ADMISSIBILITY.

Justice Finally Overruled Objections to Smith's Testimony.

New York, March 12.—With the resumption of the Thaw trial Tuesday morning Mr. Delmas continued his argument as to the admissibility of the testimony of James Clinch Smith, brother-in-law of Stanford White, who was absent from the country when the prosecution put in its case in chief against Harry K. Thaw, and who was introduced as a witness Monday afternoon by District Attorney Jerome to tell of certain conversations he had with Thaw on Madison Square Roof Garden the night Stanford White was shot and killed.

Mr. Delmas contended that Mr. Smith should properly have been examined at the beginning of the trial and could not testify at this time as in rebuttal.

Mr. Jerome asked that the court exercise its discretion in giving the jury the benefit of the testimony of the witness who was not available at the time the case was set for trial.

Mr. Smith formally was recalled to the stand when argument began. Mr. Delmas said that the matter was one of the greatest importance to the defendant, and he thought the defense was entitled to a full explanation of Mr. Jerome's grounds for his application.

Mr. Jerome said he was willing to go into the whole story and tell all the facts. "Mr. Hartridge and I have talked the matter over, and I think we are in entire accord as to the main facts," he said.

"When this matter is discussed in court," broke in Mr. Delmas, "it will be discussed with me."

"I don't know whether it will or not," replied Mr. Jerome, "Mr. Hartridge is an attorney of record."

After a little sparring Mr. Delmas resumed his seat and Mr. Jerome began to detail all the facts regarding delay in bringing Thaw to trial and steps taken by both sides to secure an immediate trial and to obtain certain testimony by commission. Mr. Hartridge occasionally interrupting to correct the district attorney in the details of his story.

Mr. Hartridge claimed that the district attorney's office had changed the case one afternoon from the court of general sessions to the supreme court without any notice whatever to the defense. "The witness, Smith, left the city almost immediately after the tragedy," said Mr. Hartridge, hotly, "and he continued to absent himself for a long time. Suddenly he came back. Surely Mrs. White knew that her brother was in the city and she was in constant touch with the district attorney. Then Smith sailed away again last Christmas when it was known this case was coming up for an early trial."

Here Mr. Jerome was allowed to proceed. Justice Fitzgerald finally overruled the objection to Smith testifying.

Dr. Carlton Flint was called Tuesday. Dr. Flint is the doctor to whom Evelyn Nesbit is said to have gone with Jack Barrymore. He was not allowed to testify.

PARTIALLY RESUMED.

Trouble Occurred Several Times While Cars Were Being Run.

Louisville, March 12.—With the aid of strikebreakers and protection of police the Louisville Street Railway company Tuesday morning opened partial service on four lines. Between fifty and seventy-five strikebreakers imported from St. Louis and Cincinnati were put on cars and with two or three policemen on each platform made several trips through the downtown districts. Even with police on board, trouble began early, hold-ups being numerous. Disturbances were nearer the business center of the city than on Monday, and in one instance a brick was thrown into a car from a window in an office building at Fifth and Main. The missile struck a St. Louis strikebreaker who was riding as a passenger, injuring him severely. But few passengers rode during morning, evidently preferring to walk in the pouring rain to take any chances on a car. Cars were brought out during the morning as rapidly as men could be secured to man them, but the strikers claimed that they had won over one-fourth of all the strike-breakers who had arrived up to 9 o'clock.

One of the eight cars sent out by the Louisville Street Railway company was held up at Seventeenth and Chestnut by a mob of about 200 persons. After a fight with the police on board, three arrests were made and the car proceeded down town with several windows shattered. Suburban service which had been discontinued, has been resumed.

Suburban service to Jeffersonton, Okala, Valley Station, Prospect and other Kentucky towns within a distance of twelve miles, was not resumed Tuesday morning. Great inconvenience has resulted to 3,000 or 4,000 persons, who came into the city Monday morning and were unable to return home last night.

Interurban service is running to Jeffersonville and New Albany, Ind. This was the only service being maintained with any show of regularity.

Charles T. Rager, acting as special representative of the second assistant postmaster general, arrived and as a result of the conference with the railway management and postal authorities, succeeded in having mail delivered to certain suburban towns by special cars. These cars were placarded with a sign four feet square labelled "U. S. Mail."

In a riot at Second and Breckenridge streets six men were seriously injured and a score or more suffered bruises and cuts.

THE MORNING EAGLE

Entered at the Postoffice in Bryan, Texas as second-class matter.

BY CARNES & WALLACE

The Eagle is authorized to announce

H. E. PEVERLEY

as a candidate for the office of City Secretary at the ensuing City election in April.

BRYAN, TEXAS, MARCH 13, 1907.

THE TREE.

The iconoclast who cares nothing for trees is always abroad in the land in Texas. He camps under a fine oak for protection from the sun, the rain or the storm, and leaves his breakfast fire burning at the roots thereof. Of course it might be too much to hang him to a limb of the tree he, in his selfishness and ignorance, has destroyed; but he is a miserable nuisance, and his sort range all the way down to the greedy sneak who actually cuts down a fine tree on somebody else's land in order to get from it one year's crop of nuts.

Man has no better friend than the tree. It affords him food, fuel, shade, comfort and pleasure. The groves were God's first temples; and they are still God's best temples, and will continue to be such. The mortal who finds nothing like wholesome and hopeful inspiration when he walks through a forest of fine trees is little better than a big stomach with the power of locomotion. Neither his head nor his heart counts for anything worth while.

Trees must be cared for. They must be protected from man, beast, insect and other enemies. During recent years the pests have apparently increased, and, as a result, greater care is required. The importance of the subject is probably realized by the majority of people, but there are some who have not yet learned to appreciate the necessity of timely and proper spraying if their trees are to be preserved from destruction. If the effect of their neglect fell only upon themselves they might be allowed to suffer without public concern, but the community as a whole is interested in the uninterrupted beauty of its tree-shaded streets, and the individual citizen has good reason to feel aggrieved when the care he gives to the fruit and ornamental trees on his own lot is to a great extent nullified by the carelessness of his neighbor.

There is no country in the world in which trees are of more use and pleasure than they are in Texas. In many places in the State there are no giants of the forest to look upon, and not even the usual smaller growth for shade. There is every reason why the subject should be made a special study throughout the State. Long and sightly rows on either side of street or road are the one thing needful in hundreds of Texas communities; and yet it is everybody's business and nobody's to put them out and look after them. There are those who can really appreciate fully the joy of living only when they loiter in the green recesses of the cedar brake or pine forest, and there are still a few who have brought with them, even down from Druidical ancestors, a deep yearning to worship every grand old oak they are fortunate enough to behold; but, unfortunately, the great listless and sensational majority of the time have apparently lost all reverence for the best of Nature's gifts to man, and are quite eager to destroy even the finest specimen of the forest in order to see it fall and hear the crash. Surely, something should and could be done to increase the intelligence, taste and love of the people for the beautiful objects that have contributed so largely to the support, comfort and happiness of mankind.—Galveston News.

JASPER COURTE AND THE LANZA WOMEN ARE RELEASED

Action Taken Following Recommendation of the Grand Jury, Which Found No Bill—Six Felony Indictments.

Upon issuance of a note yesterday from the foreman of the Brazos county grand jury, Jasper Courte, the young Italian, and Lucy and Angelina Lanza, widow and daughter of the late Frank Lanza, all three of whom were arrested on murder charges in connection with the death of Lanza, were released from custody.

The note reads as follows: "We have examined into the death of Mr. Lanza and we have failed to find any bill against any one, the evidence now being insufficient. We therefore recommend that all parties confined in jail under this charge be released."

The grand jury returned six indictments for felonies yesterday, making a total of nine felony bills reported to date. District Attorney Ralston having gone home, it is assumed that felony cases have been disposed of, and that the grand jury is now considering misdemeanors with the aid of the county attorney.

H. H. South, under indictment for murder in the second degree in connection with the killing of Will A. Millican, gave bond yesterday in the sum of $2000 with J. Allen Myers, E. J. Fountain and Jno. M. Lawrence as sureties.

KAFFIR CORN TESTS.

Prof. F. R. Marshall of the department of animal husbandry in the Agricultural and Mechanical College, reports that the tests on the digestibility of Kaffir corn are coming on in a most satisfactory manner. The tests are being made on the ranch of Mr. Thomas Bugbee at Clarendon, in the Panhandle, where a hundred head of steers are being fed on various rations of kaffir corn, cotton seed and fodder. The steers gained on an average more than a hundred pounds each during February, about three pounds per day—a record not excelled in the cattle feeding states of the corn belt.

SHOOTING AT JACKSON.

Judge Hargis' House Fired Into, Also Brothers' Store.

Jackson, Ky., March 11.—Citizens of this feud-ridden city were startled out of their sleep by shooting such as seldom has been heard here. Two shots were fired into the home of Judge James Hargis, accused of complicity in connection with the assassination of James B. Marcus.

Others were fired into the store of Hargis Bros., in which June Jett, brother of Curtis Jett, was sleeping but he was unharmed. The home of Deputy Town Marshal Smith was also hit. The firing was continued for forty minutes.

Efforts of the police were in vain until they arrested Curtis Smith and placed him in jail on the charge that he was concerned in the shooting.

FOUR BURN TO DEATH.

Mother, Her Two Children and a Man Perish in Flames.

New York, March 11.—Four persons were burned to death in Brooklyn, three in a tenement fire in Bushwick avenue, and a woman in her home. One man was mortally wounded.

Within two minutes after the fire was discovered it swept up the cellar stairs and reached the air shaft. When the firemen arrived there were more than thirty persons crowded in the windows. Ladders were quickly raised and firemen carried all to the street with the exception of Mrs. Bingall and her two children and Banaratto. Mrs. Bingall, with her children in her arms, attempted to make her way to the roof. She had reached the fifth floor and apparently made ineffectual efforts to raise the scuttle when she was overcome. Banaratto was injured in jumping from the building.

Mrs. Tischler lost her life in a fire that burned out her home in an apartment building.

FUNERAL THURSDAY.

Dowie's Body Will Be Buried Beside That of His Daughter.

Chicago, March 11.—A touch of the estimation that marked the rule of John Alexander Dowie in the Christian Catholic church, which he guided, will be observed during the funeral services of the departed leader. The white-robed choir, which was shorn of its vestments when Vellva assumed control in Zion City, will take an active part in the ceremonies, which will occur on Thursday afternoon in Zion Tabernacle. Judge V. V. Barnes, one of the few elders of the church, who remained faithful to Dowie, will conduct the services and deliver the funeral sermon. It was stated Sunday that Tuesday and Wednesday the body would lie in state in the reception hall of Shiloh house.

The burial will be in Lake Mound cemetery at Zion City, beside the grave of Dowie's daughter, who died several years ago from burns caused by the explosion of an alcohol lamp.

No memorial services for the deceased were held in Zion City Sunday, the only public reference to his death being a tribute paid Dowie by one of the deacons at the early morning church service. The regular order of services was observed. Dowie and Gladstone, her son, arrived at Zion City early Sunday.

Brunswick's Big Blaze.

Brunswick, Ga., March 11.—Fire destroyed the crosstie wharves of F. D. Aiken, burned between 35,000 and 45,000 ties and eight boxcars of the Atlantic Coast line and considerably damaged two four-masted schooners, the Eagle Wing and the Alma E. A. Holmes. The vessels were moored at the wharf. The total loss is estimated at between $60,000 and $80,000.

Business Block Burns.

Hammond, Ind., March 11.—An entire business block of East Chicago Ind., a small town near here, was destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of $200,000. In the block were the Morrell Wholesale Fruit company, the First National bank, the telephone exchange and a saloon. Several persons narrowly escaped death.

To Erect Two Gins.

Gainesville, Tex., March 11.—A company has been formed in this city to be known as the Nelson Ginning company, with a capital stock of $30,000. They have bought the only gin here and have commenced the erection of two new gins with large capacities.

Toad Superstitions.

Superstitions as to toads having been early inculcated, it has been exceedingly difficult to get rid of them. One remnant of this ancient credulity still exists. It is in regard to the absolute imperishable character of the toad. There are well educated Americans who believe that a toad hops out alive from a slab of stone though he has been imprisoned there for several millions of years. We give in brief Dr. Buckland's experiments with toads in 1825. He took twelve toads and had the toads put in twelve cells cut in sandstone, and over these he put plates of glass. They were buried in a garden for over a year. When exhumed they were all dead. Then some were put in porous sandstone, and at the end of a year a few were found "greatly emaciated." When buried for another year, they all died. Toads were inclosed in wood, and they all died. The conclusion is that, deprived of atmosphere or without food, toads must die. If a toad as a tadpole could have entered a crevice in a rock, it might have grown, but would have died in time for want of air and food. This toad nonsense is so ineradicable that it is supposable it never can be dispated.

Pellisson's Little Adventure.

Pellisson, the famous French historian, was frightfully ugly. One day as he was walking down the street a beautiful lady took him by the hand and conducted him into a house close by. Dazzled by the lady's charms and flattering himself that this adventure could not possibly entail any unpleasant consequences, he had not the strength to offer any resistance. His fair captor introduced him to the master of the house, saying:

"Line for line, exactly like this," whereupon she took her departure.

Pellisson, on recovering from his astonishment, demanded an explanation. The master of the house, after sundry apologies, confessed that he was a painter.

"I have undertaken," he added, "to supply the lady with a picture of the 'Temptation in the Wilderness.' We have been debating for a couple of hours as to the mode of representing the tempter, and she ended by saying that she wished me to take you for a model."—Revue Anecdote.

The Judge Sinned Too.

Wirt Gerrard, in his volume on "Greater Russia," says that in the czar's country one may not call another a fool. There is a Scriptural injunction against that, and it is consequently a legal offense too. Not long ago a "vint" player called his partner a fool for needlessly trumping their trick. The offended man brought his accuser before the court. The culprit pleaded provocation and, knowing that the judge was a passionate follower of the national game, explained the matter in detail. The judge became interested and got excited as the particulars of the play were given. "I took the trick with my queen, and, instead of throwing away, my partner played the king!" shouted the accuser. "The fool!" said the judge. Then he hastily dismissed the case.

Dehorning a Rhinoceros.

A rhinoceros which lived in the London zoo was troubled by its horn, which grew down in front of its mouth, so that only with difficulty could it eat or drink. To save its life the keeper decided on amputation. The horn of a rhinoceros is not a horn at all, but an accumulation of hair and skin which has hardened and become cemented together by some gummy substance. The owner of this one had a very touchy temper and was not easily approached. Its keeper, however, decided to try what he could do. For some days it required all his skill to persuade the beast to come to the front of the cage and put its horn through. Then for some days he stroked the horn, much to the animal's disgust at first, although later it seemed to like it. When it found he meant no harm it let him take the horn in his left hand and then with the right imitate the motion of a saw across it. When this had been done some time and the rhinoceros no longer minded it, a piece of wood was held in the right hand, and at last, when even this no longer worried the animal, a real saw was brought in and the horn cut off without the slightest remonstrance from the owner of it.

Goes to Eternity.

SMITH ON S

Brother-in-Law of Stanford White Saw Thaw at Theater.

New York, March 12.—In the Thaw
case Mr. Jerome called James C.
Smith, a brother-in-law of Stanford
White, to the stand, and a long argument ensued. Mr. Smith was on Madison Square Garden theater roof the night of the tragedy. He knew Thaw and spoke with him that evening. He said Thaw stood in the aisle a minute or more after reaching his seat, looking over the audience intently.

Mr. Delmas objected to this and it was stricken out of the record. The attorney for the defense also objected to Mr. Smith's testimony at all, saying he should have been produced during the presentation of the case in chief.
The matter was pending when ad-judgment was ordered.

Before this Jerome called to the stand Dr. Rudolph Witthaus, a chemist and expert in poisons. The district attorney framed a hypothetical question, concerning Evelyn Nesbit Thaw's night with Stanford White in the Twenty-fourth street house, and asked if there was any known poison which would cause insensibility in two minutes and permit of the quick recovery testified to by Thaw's wife.

Around this vital point, opening up as it did, a path through which the prosecutor could march his forces in attack upon the truth or falsity of Mrs.
Thaw's story, the storm of argument
raged for an hour or more.

Justice Fitzgerald finally sustained the objection interposed by the defense.

Summing up all his forces in rebuttal, Mr. Jerome decided to open his fight upon the defense by attacking the story told the jury by Evelyn Nesbit Thaw. He called to the stand Frederick W. Longfellow, formerly an attorney for Thaw, and asked him first concerning the case in which Ethel Thomas is alleged to have sued Thaw for damages because of cruel treatment.
Mr. Delmas objected to questions along the line under the professional provision of the lawyer and client, but before Justice Fitzgerald sustained the objection and ruled out the evidence.

Mr. Jerome declared: "The story of the girl tied to the bedpost and whipped by Thaw is the story of Ethel Thomas. This poor girl is now dead."
Here Mr. Delmas interposed an objection to the district attorney's remarks, and the latter began an attack along a different phase. He offered Mr. Longfellow the photographic copy of the affidavit Evelyn Thaw is said to have signed in the office of Abraham Hummel, alleging that Thaw treated her cruelly while abroad in 1903 because she "would not tell lies against White."

Mr. Jerome followed this up by asking the witness if Mrs. Thaw had not turned over to him certain papers to which she had subscribed. Mr. Longfellow said she had. There was a long argument between Mr. Jerome and Mr.
Delmas, at the conclusion of which Longfellow turned his entire examination to naught by declaring that Mrs. Thaw had never shown him a paper similar to the Hummel affidavit in any way. He thereupon was excused without cross-examination.

WILLIAMS WILLING.

Sheriff Says He Will Execute All Processes Promptly.

Little Rock, March 12.—Sheriff R.
L. Williams of Garland county, of which Hot Springs is the county seat, delivered a communication to Governor Moore in person explaining his willingness to execute promptly all processes or warrants delivered to him against parties operating at Oaklawn race track contrary to law. The sheriff says the law does not prohibit races,
but does prohibit betting on races.
Other citizens from Hot Springs are here to confer with the governor.

Thus far the legislature has not adopted any measure looking to the control of the situation by the state militia.

Saturated With Oil.

San Angelo, Tex., March 12.—The depot end of Chadbourne street was found full of crude oil, a tank having burst during the night and poured out 19,000 gallons. The oil belonged to the West Texas Ice and Cold Storage company, and its loss will be about $700. The tank was on a sidetrack when the leak opened, and that immediate section of the city is thoroughly
saturated with oil.

He says that official business in con-warrants. Dismissal is the only pen-

CROMWELL'S HORSES.

An Accident That Befell the Protector
In Hyde Park.

"As Cromwell rose in power and rank
his love of horses began to be more conspicuous," says a writer in Blackwood's. "When he started from London in 1649 to reconquer Ireland he went forth in that state and equipage
as the like hath hardly been seen, himself in a coach with six gallant Flemish mares, reddish gray." In 1655, when the Spanish ambassador took his leave of the lord protector, Cromwell sent him "his own coach of six white horses" to convey him to and from Whitehall. "Certain it is," adds the narrator, "that none of the English kings had ever any such."

The protector was not much of a whip, however. In 1654 the Count of Oldenburg sent Cromwell a present of six horses, and the protector's anxiety to make trial of their quality led to his well known adventure in Hyde park.
On Friday, Sept. 29, he went with Secretary Thurloe and some of his gentlemen to take air in the park, ordered the six horses to be harnessed to his coach, put Thurloe inside of it and undertook to drive himself. "His highness," said a letter from the Dutch ambassador, "drove pretty handsomely for some time, but at last, provoking
those horses too much with the whip, they grew unruly, whereby his highness was flung out of the coach box upon the ground. His foot getting hold in the tackling, he was carried away a good while in that posture, but at last he got his foot clear and so came to escape. He was presently brought home and let blood and after some rest taken is now well again. The secretary, being hurt on his ankle with leaping out of the coach, hath been forced to keep his chamber hitherto and been unfit for any business."

The royalist Scroggs, afterward chief justice, writing of this incident, hoped that the next fall would be from a cart —hitting at the gallows. As to Cromwell's views on the burning question of horse racing it is difficult to arrive at a positive conclusion. His constant aim was to possess as many good horses as he could afford. Whether he entered his horses for races or had the satisfaction of owning a winner history does not say.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

The only thing some people always have ready is an excuse.

Almost any one can be induced to lie
if you ask enough questions.

The better you behave the better you get along. It's old, but it's true.

A man nobody can quarrel with has the life problem reasonably well solved.
Lack of opportunity has to stand as an excuse for a lot of general shiftlessness.

The trouble with some people lies in the fact that they consider their faults their misfortunes.

Are you among those who treat their new acquaintances better than they treat their old friends?

If a man has plenty of money to back up a lot of fool notions, people call him eccentric, but if he only has the notions
he is a crank.—Atchison Globe.

Tamed the Box Office Man.

A theater box office man whose seats were all sold days ahead was turning away disappointed patrons more than gruff, when a man who had watched the process with glowing ire reached the window. "Selling any more seats this season?" he began. The ticket seller answered with a stare. The question, quietly but firmly repeated, finally received an affirmative answer. "Give me two." "When?" growled the seller, recovering. "Any time," said the man.
The seller was almost too crushed to ask "Where?" "Anywhere," replied the man. "How much?" whispered the seller, his voice deserting him. "Any price," said the man. The tickets were transferred in an awed silence, and the line of purchasers that had overheard smiled benevolently at the noticeably tamed man in the cage.—New York Post.

Antiquity of Proverbs.

Proverbs existed long before books.
In the earliest times they served as the unwritten language of morality and have been passed down through the generations. In Africa there are numerous quaint proverbs. Among them are: "He who dives on dry land will scarify his face." "Two people cannot sit down upon the point of the same thorn at the same time." In the Transvaal the proverb, "Beware of a silent man; he has a brass band in his mouth," is often heard.
